

VIRGINIA ARTILLERYMEN ARE STILL IN NEW YORK

No Information Available as to When They May Be Expected Here.

WANT GOVERNOR TO REVIEW

Regiment Organized Around Old Virginia Guardsmen and Members From All Parts of Commonwealth. Ninth Company Richmonders.

Further movement of the Virginia Artillerymen, who arrived in New York Tuesday afternoon with the Sixteenth Regiment, could not be learned here this morning, although many inquiries had been dispatched to the War Department and to officers of the unit. No information at all has been given as to when the men may be expected here.

Both Governor Davis and Adjutant-General de Lane Stern were active in trying to get information concerning future movement, but were no more successful than were civilians.

REGIMENT BUILT AROUND

Stem, Lieutenant-Colonel, who is in charge of the regiment, is a native of this city.

We take pleasure in reporting to you the organization of the regiment, which was organized and trained at Fort Monroe, with two of the companies at Fort Du Pont. The regiment was organized around the Virginia National Guard as a nucleus, with additions from regular guardsmen, being mostly from the Virginia National Guard.

Lieutenant-Colonel Henry Fairfax Stern, Major Marshall M. Milton, Major John E. Lee, Captain Charles A. Haden, Philip E. Talliferro, James C. Holmes, Second Lieutenant H. A. Campbell, Lewis W. Throckmorton, Frank E. Wells, George Stevens, A. B. Davis.

The regiment received its overseas training at Camp Leconte, near Bordeaux, where it arrived May 1918, and was moved to the front of the line in the offensive of St. Mihiel, Argonne, Meuse, and the Marne. It finished the November 1918 drive on November 11, 1918, seven kilometers from Sedan, the regiment's farthest point. All of us are full of pride for the Commonwealth.

NUMBERS MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE

Adjutant-General Stern, who organized the Virginia Artillerymen, stated yesterday that the following companies contained Virginians:

First Company, from Fredericksburg; Fourth Company, from Grundy; from Buchanan County; Fifth Company, from Roanoke; Sixth Company, from Danville; Eighth Company, from Gloucester County; Ninth Company, from Richmond.

When the Ninth Company was organized, Charles E. Stewart, who was its captain, William A. Stewart, first lieutenant, and William E. Sale, second lieutenant. All of these officers were transferred to the regiment before the regiment sailed for Europe.

ARMY MAIL TRUCKS

CAUSE TRAFFIC TROUBLE

Owing to Their Size, Postmaster Will Let Contract for Widening Driveway.

W. Ross Southward, acting postmaster of Richmond, yesterday received a telegram from the Post-Office Department at Washington, authorizing him to let a contract for widening of the driveway in the rear of the post-office here.

Authority to do this work has been anxiously awaited by Mr. Southward for several days, as the advent of the big army trucks which are used in the mail transfer service has caused trouble at the back of the post-office.

It was found that the trucks could get in at one end of the present driveway, but they could not get out at the other. There are many of these trucks, and many of them are in use at all times. In addition, dozens of automobiles and wagons from the stores of the city have to use the driveway, and the rural free delivery vehicles have to move back and forth.

As the big army trucks have now and then caused much confusion in the street, it is thought that the widening of the driveway will be a very desirable thing to do.

SECOND PUBLIC SCHOOL

TERM BEGINS MONDAY

Acting Superintendent Expects at Least 1,200 New Pupils to Register Enrollment.

The public schools of the city will begin the second term of the current year on Monday morning, according to an announcement made yesterday by Albert H. Hill, who is acting superintendent in the absence of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, who is doing war work in Washington.

Mr. Hill expects at least 1,200 new pupils to enroll for the term, during the first session of which time was lost to the school by the influenza epidemic, but that as a hindrance is now negligible.

HUGE AIRPLANE LEAVES

Handley-Page Wrecked at Fair Grounds Leaves City After Repairs Are Completed.

The giant Handley-Page bombing plane, which was damaged in landing at the Fair Grounds some days ago, left yesterday morning, having been repaired by another machine. The bombing plane was the largest ever coming here, having a seating capacity of twenty-five people. The delay was due to inability to get new parts to substitute for those damaged in the accident.

LEVY WANTS $675,684 FOR HIS DEPARTMENT

Submits Estimate of Needs in Public Welfare Division to Mayor Ainslie

HOSPITAL FOR PINE CAMP

Chief Executive Reiterates Opinion That Taxes Must Be Increased to Meet Growing Expenses of City Government.

Director of Public Welfare E. C. Levy yesterday filed with Mayor Ainslie the budget for the Public Welfare Department. This will now be considered in connection with the other departmental budgets which the Mayor and other members of the advisory board are now considering as a basis for making up the executive budget to the City Council.

Major Levy estimates that his department will require $675,684 during the year 1919. Divisions included in this are those of health, street cleaning, Virginia Hospital, Pine Camp, City Home and markets. In several respects the estimates are less than previous estimates for some of the divisions.

A matter of interest in connection with Mayor Levy's budget is the department's estimate that the city should build a hospital at Pine Camp, sufficient to accommodate thirty-eight beds. He estimates that this would cost $30,000.

Mayor Ainslie reiterated yesterday his statement that the city should build a hospital at Pine Camp, sufficient to accommodate thirty-eight beds. He estimates that this would cost $30,000.

U. D. C. MADE POSSIBLE GREAT RED CROSS WORK

Mrs. Robert Bacon, Head of Hospital at Neuilly, Writes Praise of Southern Organization.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, more than any other organization, made it possible, through its support, for the American Red Cross military hospital No. 1, at Neuilly, to carry on the great work for the wounded soldiers of the American expeditionary force and the French army.

Mrs. Robert Bacon, head of the hospital at Neuilly, writes in a letter to the Richmond Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, that the work of the hospital at Neuilly, which is situated just outside the walls of Paris, and which cared for a great number of American wounded in the fight at Belleau Wood, Chateau-Thierry and Soissons.

Many of the beds in this hospital had on them the names of heroic figures of the Confederate army.

The war relief committee makes the appeal that local chapters of the organization do not cease their war efforts simply because this hospital will close at an early date and needs no further contributions. Much is yet to be done, it says, in the way of relief. Whatever funds they have to be disposed of should be held in trust, they are asked, pending instructions from the president-general.

THOMAS C. WALFORD DIES

City Tax Collector Passes Away After Brief Illness—Funeral Arrangements Not Completed.

Thomas C. Walford, for twenty-five years collector of delinquent taxes for the city of Richmond, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 2615 East Broad Street. He was sick for less than a day.

Walford was sixty years old, and was one of the best known men of Richmond. He was a son of the late Thomas L. D. Walford, for many years a prominent book dealer of the city.

When a young man he married Miss Mary Stratton, who, with his brother, C. P. Walford, and his sister, Miss Bella Walford, survive him. He had no children.

Walford was connected with a flour manufacturing concern here. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

The Mayor called attention to the fact that the city now pays the whole

M'GUIRE UNIT PRAISED BY CHICAGO SERGEANT

Doughboy in Westhampton Hospital Tells of Treatment Given Him in France.

Kindness and Efficiency of Richmond Doctor Remembered—Nurses Volunteer for Dangerous Field Service.

High praise was given last night by Sergeant Jeff Krueger, of the American expeditionary force, who has just returned to this country, to the McGuire Unit, Base Hospital No. 45, for its recognized efficiency in caring for the wounded sent there for treatment.

Not only is it very efficient as a hospital, according to the sergeant, but the kindness with which the men are treated by both doctors and nurses gives life in the institution a personal touch that is hard to duplicate anywhere in France, and one which makes a lasting impression upon the inmates.

WAS ASSIGNED TO WARD

It fell to the lot of Sergeant Krueger, who was a newspaper man in Chicago during peace times, to be assigned to a ward which came under the supervision of Captain J. T. Geisinger, of Richmond.

"I was especially impressed," Sergeant Krueger said, "with the kindness and efficiency of Captain Geisinger. In fact, a good example of what all the doctors and nurses connected with this hospital were. It had a wonderful reputation among all the men who knew it."

NURSES VOLUNTEER

"I remember there was a call for volunteers among the personnel to go to a field hospital, dangerous work in France. There was hardly a nurse who didn't express a desire to go, and many of them did. They all had the real spirit."

Sergeant Krueger is under the impression that the hospital staff soon will arrive in America. Before he left operations of every sort had been suspended, all the men requiring them being sent to this country, if possible.

The sergeant arrived in Richmond a few days ago, and is now a patient in the debarkation hospital at Westhampton.

"The Desert of Wheat"

And Other "Zane Grey" Books

"Give Us Zane Grey," say our men in service, and the demand comes not only from hospitals, but from the large camps, from the battlefields and from men overseas.

There is no sawdust in the veins of Zane Grey's people—they are out-of-door folks. Human nature remains uncorrupted—violent—in the large spaces among the Western trails. That is why the soldiers like him so—that is why you will like him when you read his latest exciting story of the Far West.

"The Desert of Wheat"—Zane Grey's newest book—is on sale in the Book Shop at $1.50. Read it and pass it on to some soldier or sailor.

Other "Zane Grey" Books at 65c

The Light of the Western Stars. The Rainbow Trail. Desert Gold. The Last of the Plainsman. The Riders of the Purple Sage. The Short Stop. The Heritage of the Desert. Betty Zane. The Lone Star Ranger. The Border Legion. The Last of the Great Scouts. Wildfire. Basement—South.

Do You Know How to Put On Your Corset?

"Not one woman in ten knows how to put on a corset properly," said an eminent corsetiere.

Unless your corset is fitted to you, it will not give you the support it needs.

You may perhaps select a corset which seems to you perfectly suited to your figure—but a corsetiere could show you that it is not at all the model you should wear. Perhaps it is an inch too long—which makes you rigid—or an inch too high—which makes you awkward.

All this week there will be—

Individual Fittings of the BINNER CORSET

BY MISS BURLEIGH, Expert Corsetiere and Special Binner Representative.

This is your opportunity to get the Binner that is really made to suit your particular figure—and to learn from an expert corsetiere just how to adjust and wear your corset so that it will give you the greatest comfort and longest service.

Come and see the wonderful new Binner Miss Burleigh has brought with her from New York.

Prices, $6.50 to $25.00. No charge for fittings.

Second Floor—South.
